

FULL IMMIGRATION STATUS FOR ALL

Migrants grow food, take care of children & build communities. But we are excluded from healthcare, separated from our families and abused at work because we are denied full immigration status.

Prime Minister Trudeau promised us equality but he keeps stalling.

WE ARE IN A CRISIS OF INEQUALITY

Working class people are in crisis. Rent is high, wages are low, forests are on fire, and healthcare, education, and other services are being slashed. We are all struggling to make ends meet and live with justice and dignity.

MIGRANTS BEAR A HEAVY BURDEN

Migrants are our friends, family, classmates and co-workers. But without permanent resident status, migrants are excluded from the most basic rights and protections. Speaking out against inequality can mean being fired, unenrolled from services, evicted, detained and deported.

JUSTICE FOR ALL MEANS STATUS FOR ALL

To change everything, we need everyone in the fight. For that, we need to end the systems that disempower and displace migrants. Combating climate change and ending the affordability crisis also requires regularizing all undocumented people. To have real equality, everyone in the country must have the same immigration status.
